

WRONG MAN IS SHOT FROM AMBUSH IN GREENUP COUNTY

Young Man Shot From Ambush By Who Thought Him An Enemy, May Die.

Mistaken for an enemy Wade Hale, a 17 year old young man of Brushy, about 14 miles back of Greenup, Ky., was seriously wounded in the abdomen when fired upon with a .32-caliber pistol in the hands of Thomas Leadingham, about 25, Saturday night about 8 o'clock. Leadingham, after learning that Hale received a serious wound when fired upon from ambush, went to his home and explained that he was the guilty person, it is said. Leadingham explaining that he was waiting for some one else whom he had a grudge against and whom he intended to shoot. It is claimed that Leadingham told Hale he was sorry that he had made such a mistake, Hale coming along at about the same time Leadingham expected his enemy.

Young Hale was removed to the Marting hospital in Ironton Monday by touring car. Officials of Greenup county left Monday morning for Brushy to arrest Leadingham, who it was reported had remained at his home all day Sunday. Leadingham is to be held pending the outcome of the shooting. Should complications develop, the wounded young man will have only a fighting chance for recovery.

There was a community gathering on Brushy Saturday evening and it is thought that Leadingham fully expected his enemy to be present. The gun user hid in the bushes beside the road, and when Hale came along opened fire on him, thinking that it was the man for whom he was waiting. Persons coming behind Hale found him and assisted him to his home. News of the shooting soon spread, and when Leadingham heard of it, he is reported as going direct to the Hale home, where he offered an explanation.

Hale remained in a serious condition Saturday night and Sunday, his condition becoming more serious Sunday night. It is thought that the bullet might have perforated vital organs.—Portsmouth Times.

INVESTIGATION MAY FOLLOW MAN'S RETURN

Pennsylvania Business Man Thought To Have Been Kidnaped May Face Federal Charge.

Sharon, Penn., July 21.—Thomas D. Randolph, prominent business man here, said to have been kidnaped last Monday night and held for $50,000 ransom, returned to the home of his father-in-law, Boyce Fogie, last night after a three-day search, and after a reward of $5,000 had been offered by his father, E. V. Randolph, for his return and the apprehension of his alleged abductors.

Randolph was said to be exhausted and a physician was summoned. His father-in-law told police that he would go his security for his appearance before local authorities.

The missing man has not been placed under arrest, but District Attorney L. A. Rickard said that if the police failed to place charges against him he would have Randolph arrested on a charge of blackmail.

Postal authorities, after inspecting the letters sent through E. V. Randolph to his wife, one purporting to have been written by his abductors demanding $50,000, are reported to have declared their intention of charging the man with using the mails to defraud.

Both Randolph's father and his father-in-law declined to comment on his return and police said some action would be taken probably today.

Head of State's Greatest Educational Institution Refuses Call to Missouri.

Dr. Frank L. McVey will remain as president of the University of Kentucky. Late Wednesday night he announced in a formal statement that he had declined the presidency of the University of Missouri, offered two weeks ago. His decision has been awaited with interest since the announcement that he was considering the offer from the larger institution.

"If I did not believe that the state will get behind the university at the next legislature for a greater appropriation, I should not have decided to remain here," Doctor McVey said last night.

"When the offer of the presidency of the University of Missouri was made to me in the first instance, I fully decided at that time that I would accept. Since then indications are that the university will be backed up by the state, and I have decided to work here to help make the University of Kentucky a greater institution, and promote greater interest in the institution."

BUILT BETTER!

Lasts Longer

Costs Less to Operate

Is this a time to be letting up on the efficiency of farming? A thousand times No! That would be yielding to a penny-wise, pound-foolish policy.

Yield is the big thing today. A certain yield from the land must first pay the fixed expenses—such an investment in land, interest, taxes, or rent, depreciation on equipment, etc.—to break even. For profit, the yield must go higher.

There comes the mission of good, reliable, time-saving machinery—the kind that's built better, lasts longer, and costs less to operate. That's the kind of

ANOTHER DEMONSTRATION.

Another arbitration agreement has been concluded by the Harding administration. It involves the claim of Norway against the United States Shipping Board for over $14,000,000 on account of Norwegian ships building in this country at the time we entered the war, which were requisitioned by this Government. Full agreement has been arrived at between representatives of the United States and Norway, which the Senate has been asked to ratify. Thus again is it demonstrated that this country needs no outside assistance from the league of nations or other source to live at peace with the world.

New York Letter

New York. — We are quite excited here over the Afghanistan Sultana, who is stopping in our midst. At first it was difficult to pay much attention to anything but her clothes; but now we've grown sufficiently accustomed to the sapphire pendant clasped on one side of her nose, so that we can pay some attention to other matters. The most interesting details — once more omitting the jeweled pendants — are, I think, the fact that she is thinking of leaving her sons, Princes Mohammed Azim Khan, Mohammed Hashim Khan and Mohammed Akbar Khan, over here to be educated in an American college. AND that she is carrying with her the second largest diamond in the world. To date, she hasn't left it about her room while the reporters were calling, but she has it just the same.

—NY—

They are having nice, chatty little gatherings on the sidewalks of Brooklyn these days where tenants and landlords talk over their troubles and prepare for peace and dharmony. Why that p. and h. are easier to obtain on the sidewalk than in the courtroom or lawyers' offices no one has explained. But the plan works just the same. Maybe it's the open sky above them — the wedge of t that can be seen between the building walls. Anyhow, Justice Strahl adopted the scheme and it is living up to his hopes. He found the docket crowded with rent cases the other day and the courtroom crowded, too; so he ordered all landlords and tenants to leave the room and had them lined up outside and marched out on the sidewalks, where according to his orders, they were to "talk things over and try to get together." About an hour later, he brought them back. Sixty-eight of the cases had been settled by the sidewalk conference. The other 46 were settled right away in court.

One Million — count them — 1,000,000! — New Yorkers spent Sunday at our neighboring beaches this last week. And there was a time when poor Coney Island wept and mourned that prohibition was going to ruin her entirely.

CAMPAIGN TO SAVE HAYES' BIRTHPLACE

Delaware Wants $7,000 to Buy Historic Home of the Ex-President.

Delaware, Ohio. — This historic little town is fighting to save one of its most cherished possessions—the birthplace of former President Rutherford B. Hayes. D. A. R. organizations of Delaware have launched a campaign for $7,000 to buy the house. It must be successful or the brick home, a century and a year old will fall before the onslaughts of workmen's hammers, and in its stead will rise a symbol of progress—a gasoline filling station.

The house, a brick one, was built by Rutherford Hayes, the President's father, who came to Delaware from Vermont in 1817. It stands on Williams street, one block from the postoffice, right in the heart of Delaware.

The oil company owns the home now, having paid $8,000 for it. The company will donate $1,000 to the fund, selling the home for $7,000.

C. M. Webb Hayes, of Fremont, son of the late President, has promised to give $4,000 to restore the home to its original state. He will not give anything, however, towards the $7,000 with which to purchase the home itself.

The drive is in charge of members of the historical sites committee of the Delaware D. A. R., including Miss Alice Hills and Mesdames Edward Rice, Lester Riddle, J. W. Parker, Harry Crist, Charles Riddle and Belle Moyer Colther; the present regent, Mrs. Ralph Wilson, and the regent-elect, Mrs. Moulton Houk.

PERIL TO SHIPS BY ICEBERGS IN STEAMER LANES.

Giant Floes More Numerous Than Usual In The Great Atlantic.

Boston, Mass. — Icebergs of unusual size and number, one of them estimated to contain enough ice to supply the home of a large part of the country for the rest of the summer, have been encountered by the United States coast guard cutters Seneca and Yamacraw which are patrolling the ocean steamship lanes.

Since early February the United States government, acting under an international agreement and at international expense, has maintained the annual iceberg patrol. The coast guardmen have helped many vessels to steer a safe course through the danger zone. Some have been extricated from serious positions, others have warned when they were headed for the ice.

The open winter caused a large number of bergs to break away early and drift south. They have become an abnormally serious menace to navigation, according to naval officers. Many are of huge dimensions.

The giant of all the icebergs is described by Lieut. Com. E. H. Smith, navigator of the Seneca, as approximately one-third of a mile long and towering seventy-five feet above the water. This berg remained in sight for nearly an month, during which time it traveled 300 miles. The vagaries of the ice movements are shown by the fact that another berg circled about the vessel, covering thirty-five miles in three days.

At times the patrol boats have gone along side the floating refrigerators to obtain cracked ice for the wardroom or huge chunks which could be melted to replenish the fresh water supply.

Although plans for ridding the seas of these dangers to navigation have often been proposed the coast guard officers resist the icebergs "still rule the northern sea." They are awaiting with interest reports of experiments made by the destroyer Brackinridge, which shot several bergs with torpedoes. Some of the coast guardmen are frankly skeptical of this plan and insist that a torpedo would make no more impression on an iceberg than a popgun would on a mountain of cotton.

DROUGHT SERIOUS IN ALL PARTS OF STATE

Central and Western Counties Suffer Most From Continued Dry Spell.

Louisville, Ky., July 21. — A summary of weather and crop conditions in Kentucky for the week ending July 19 issued by the Weather Bureau here says:

"High temperature continued during the week with drought conditions becoming intensified in the western and central counties. Local showers in the upper basin of Green River and in the northwestern counties afforded temporary relief, but they were generally too light to satisfy the needs of the crops. In such places corn and tobacco continue good. Considering the state as a whole, however, both crops made but little growth; in fact, evidences of deterioration are apparent in many fields, especially in the central counties, where drought conditions seem to be most acute.

"Much early corn is tasseling without shoots and the tassels are drying. Its condition is critical and unless good rains come soon this part of the crop will suffer material reduction. Tobacco is practically at a standstill and will make no progress of consequence until good rains are received."

Jno. T. Bramel, retired bookkeeper, 108 West Front street, Maysville, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been of great advantage to me and I contribute fourteen years of my life to them. It was some years ago that I found I had kidney trouble and suffered severely with it. After a long course of Doan's Kidney Pills I became well and had no trouble for many years. Just recently I noticed my kidneys were again out of order and my system was generally weak. I knew it was a return of the trouble. I did not lose any time in getting a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and they have given me the same good results and I consider them a wonderful remedy." (Statement given November 15, 1916.)

On November 22, 1920, Mr. Bramel said: "I couldn't recommend a better remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills after the benefit they were to me when I was about down and out with the worst form of kidney trouble. I gave a statement many years ago regarding the merit of this wonderful remedy. My cure has been a lasting one."

The Summer Cloud

It is a bright summer day. You're working hard in your office or in your store, and your wife is working hard at home.

Suddenly the summer day is no longer bright. Great thunder clouds cover all the heavens.

Immediately, thousands of hands in factories, in offices, in homes, reach for a switch or a button and turn on the light. The response is instantaneous.

As far as its obscuring power is concerned the summer thunder cloud is vanquished.

Under the clear electric lights, work goes on as before.

This is made possible by the constant vigilance of employees in the electric light and power stations, who, upon the first indication of a cloud in the sky, or of approaching night, prepare additional generators for instantaneous service, fire up the boilers, or open the water gates and start up the turbines, so that there may be no flickering of lights and no delay in the response of electrical energy when it is needed.

On a cloudy or stormy day more electrical energy is needed, and, therefore, more equipment is required to handle the load than during the bright, sunny days.

All this means equipment.

And equipment means capital.

Capital means investment by thrifty American men and women who look for a fair return upon their money.

Already, in addition to banks and insurance companies which have invested and loaned millions of dollars, there are 1,450,000 individual American investors in the electric light and power industry. They expect fair treatment from the public of which they are a part.
